

The Man and the Moon

---

Today I saw you glowing,
Haunting me with your light,
Enchanting me with an overwhelming feeling,

Misguided I follow my sight,
And got lost in a dark day,
Now I am looking for you,

All over again, I am starting to lose my way,
Not here, not there, where are you?
Desperate I started falling through the night,

To see just one more time, your smile, your bright,
Help me my love, I lost my vision,
Enlighten my mind and my mission,

My love! Wake up! Open your eyes!
Open and see you are not a man and need to shine,
Overcome the fears, and release the lies,
Now you realize, you are the sun, I am yours and you are mine.
